imagine you flip on the tv and you see van halen and Daft Punk creating the soundtrack for Kung Fury2: the Electric boogaloo, right as the koolaid man crashes through your wall with andy milanokis swimming inside of his jug Shooting little LED pistols that are firing Techno Ratpors who have kittens for hands that fire even smaller kittens and you are so freaked out you peel your face off to reveal that you are Terry Crews and you get so hyped the your body explodes in to 1000 duck sized Terrys and you burst in to tiny fires and then all 1000 little terrys each chew 5 gun and the ball goes in and you score and this its pure serinity.for about 2 seconds then this scene repeats. thats what its like to play this game. 9/10 would trip acid if i didnt have this game. https://www.twitch.tv/fullmetalalchemist. This could be fun to play, but it needs more players. Otherwise your stuck playing minigames, which can be rage inducing if you want to have a highscore. otherwise your stuck in solo going against bots. And this is meant for controllers. Its a dead game that isn't worth $12 until their is more players. Their is only one game mode as well. Other than that it is well made.
